Mission of National SACNAS

SACNAS fosters the success of scientists, from college students to professionals, by:

• encouraging and supporting undergraduate and graduate students in pursuing and attaining advanced degrees
• encouraging and supporting SACNAS professionals in attaining successful careers and positions of leadership in science
• informing and advocating for public policies and governmental funding that support the advancement of Hispanics/Chican@s and Native Americans and lead to the building of a large and diverse U.S. science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM) workforce

Mission of EVC SACNAS

1) Cooperate with other individuals, organizations and clubs whose purposes include the achievement of community, scholarship study and science education.

2) Promote student recruitment and retention of underrepresented minorities in science.

3) Provide a forum for students from different science related majors to come together for academic, community services and social activities at Evergreen Valley College.

If you desire to major in the sciences, engineering, or math. If you want to shape the world with your smarts? Create the newest and greatest gadgets of our time? SACNAS will lead you there!
