DEATH VALLEY NATIONAL MONUMENT

Join us with fellow students and experience up-close America's largest national park, the hottest place on Earth (but not at this time of year!) with incredible canyons, amazing history, beautiful rock and mineral deposits and unique geological features. We go to parts of the park rarely seen by visitors. It is the trip of a lifetime; don't miss it! Students will be responsible for park entrance and campground fees and other travel-related expenses. Space is limited so register early. Please contact the course instructors for further information.

MANDATORY ON-CAMPUS CLASS SESSIONS (2):

Fridays, December 4 & 11, 6:00-9:50pm

FIELD TRIP: 7 days; Wednesday, January 13 through

Tuesday, January 19, 2010

● 51065 201 LEC T 0600-0800PM S109

#51065 Instructors: Adams-Stryker, J. & Hays, L.

COASTAL CALIFORNIA

This field course takes students to unique settings where the ocean meets the shoreline at Point Reyes National Seashore and the Monterey

Bay Marine Sanctuary. The extraordinary land forms and ecology of these regions are the result of a combination of constructive and destructive forces. Students will explore the areas' human and natural histories, walk the famous San Andreas fault, study coastal habitats on shore and off, including the Monterey Canyon, and examine the associated terrestrial and aquatic flora and fauna found along the central California coastline. Students will be responsible for park entrance and campground fees and other travel-related expenses.

Space is limited so register early.

Please contact the course instructors for further information.

MANDATORY ON-CAMPUS CLASS SESSIONS (3):

Tuesdays, September 15 & 22, 6:00 - 8:00 p.m.;

October 6, 6:00 - 10:00 p.m.
