Insurance Dictionary

1. Deductible: The dollar amount of covered expenses you are responsible to pay the physician or provider before the plan will pay any benefits. Deductibles per event means you are responsible to pay the deduction amount for each illness or accident. If you return to the hospital or doctor for the same illness or accident, you do not have to pay the deductible. Deductible per condition means you would pay the deductible amount before any benefits are paid.

2. Maximum Per Injury or Sickness: The total amount payable by the insurance company for covered expenses per injury or sickness. It includes medical expenses, hospitalization, and other related expenses. The maximum per injury or sickness is the total amount the insurance company will pay for covered expenses related to an injury or sickness.

ISO or Preferred Provider Organizations: A network of doctors, hospitals, and other health care providers that have agreed to provide health care at a discount or negotiated fees. Living outside of a "Network" hospital or provider may result in out-of-pocket expenses for more services than with a doctor, clinic, or hospital within the "Network" network.

Pre-existing Condition: Any illness or disease which you had before the policy effective date, which may have caused you to take medical treatment before the policy became effective.

Reimbursement: The amount the insurance company will pay to providers or pay you directly, which is subject to the limits and exclusions of the policy.
